Maria F. Scaroni
Modul 1,3 ECTS 2

This early morning class is based on Yin and Fascia Yoga principles. It mobilizes the connective tissue in the body, through gentle movement patterns, it warms and eases the body, tuning the subtle bodies (meridians or rivers) to the muscular-skeletal function. It has a contemplative nature, yet wakes up the system, preparing it for being in motion and centered energetically.

Maria F. Scaroni (IT/DE) is a dance artist, living in Berlin since 2004. She creates and interprets choreographic works rooted in improvisational practices and altered states of consciousness. Maria hosts workshops re-purposing post-modern dance legacies towards technologies for mutual empowerment, crossbreeding somatic practices and anti-oppression frameworks, storytelling and theory, to bring somatic literacy in support of a culture of connection. Maria performs in Meg Stuart's works, with whom she collaborates since 2009. Since 2016 she is a member of queer collective lecken berlin, a femme forward rave. Since the pandemic she is hosting Social Pleasure Center, a community space for somatic post-activism, queer feminist joyful militancy, radical redistribution of resources and temporary social choreography.

All exits lead outside – an approach to abstract stage dancing

Mondays: 21.10. – 15.11.2024 10:30 – 12:30

Tuesdays: 21.10. – 15.11.2024 10:30 – 12:30

Thursdays: 21.10. – 15.11.2024 10:30 – 12:30

Fridays: 21.10. – 15.11.2024 10:30 – 12:30

Mikael Marklund

Modul 1,3 ECTS 2

In this dance class we will be focusing on the point where technique becomes expression. Technique not in a sense of a specific technique but in the sense of the function of the body and its technicalities. As a celebration of dance, the beauty, the sorrow, and all its abstraction, this class follows the lineage of working with the body through its subjectivity, objectiveness, and multiple identities. A positioning where we step outside of a situation or happening to propose or offer an outside perspective. Choreography, improvisation, tasks, concepts, set material, are all different ways to shape specific perspectives. In this class we will look at different ways for that journey to take place aiming at the place where we learn from the dancing we do. This class is a collection from some of my experiences as a performer, when the body taught me about how to share dance.

Mikael Marklund: Born in Sweden, I started breakdancing at the age of 16. After highschool I went to Balettakademin and from there continued my dance studies at P.A.R.T.S.

Since then, I've made my own pieces and worked with Rosas, Laurent Chétouane, Charlie Fouchier, Matej Kejzar, Moritz Majce and Leonard Engel.

From the Alexander Technique to UNFOLD

Mondays: 18.11. – 20.12.2024 (25.11.24) 09:00 – 12:30

Tuesdays: 18.11. – 20.12.2024 (26.11.24) 09:00 – 12:30

Valentina Bordinave
Modul 1,3 ECTS 2

UNFOLD is a movement and awareness training with the Alexander Technique as a springboard to a higher level of balance and coordination. By engaging in a psychophysical dialogue with our support and movement systems, postural and movement habits begin to change. At this new level of alertness and mechanical efficiency the relationship to lightness, gravity, space, time and imagination is redefined. The work helps ensure sustainability of creative experience for a long artistic career through healthy body and mind attitudes. It provides the skills the artist requires to contain extreme emotional and physical experiences in full awareness.

Valentina is an Argentinian choreographer and Alexander Technique teacher with a degree in dance from the Folkwang-Hochschule in Essen. She is the founder of the UNFOLD method and heads the movement department at Arthaus Berlin. Other pedagogical experiences include the acting departments at the Ernst Busch University and ten years at the University of the Arts (UdK).

Practicing Connections in Movement

Thursdays: 21.11. – 20.12.2024 09:00 – 12:30

Fridays: 21.11. – 20.12.2024 09:00 – 12:30

Alice Heyward
Modul 1,3 ECTS 2

Klein Technique™ is a process-oriented practice that focuses on moving from our deepest structural and energetic tissue, the bone, and the connections at the level of the bones. We explore the anatomy and function of the muscles of deep structural support: the psoas, the hamstrings, the pelvic floor, and the external rotators. When put into proper use, these muscles can change the relationships of the bones to one another and maximize the transmission of force through the body. They bring the pelvis on top of the legs and connect the body to the floor and space. Experiencing our bodies through a systems approach, this work leads to power, strength, and efficiency in movement.

Alice Heyward is a dancer and works as a performer, choreographer, dramaturge, teacher, writer, and editor. Her practice develops through diverse collaborations. Currently, she is developing 'Brigid,' a performance exploring the banshee myth, and undertaking Graduate Research at the University of Melbourne on performance conservation.

Modul 1,3 ECTS 3

The class is designed to enhance and fine-tune the synchronization of physical, mental and emotional awareness. We are learning how to use our mental and emotional present moment state as a starting point from which we can connect to our performative presence, and improve our ability to shift between different states. Being and doing; choreography and presence.

Exploring Body-Mind Centering: The words of our movements

Mondays: 03. – 14.02.25	09:00 – 12:30 (10.02.2025)
Tuesdays: 03. – 14.02.25	09:00 – 12:30
Thursdays: 03. – 14.02.25	09:00 – 12:30
Fridays: 03. – 14.02.25	09:00 – 12:30

Odile Seitz-Walser
Modul 1,3 ECTS 2

If we would consider a movement sequence as a sentence, the Neurocellular Patterns would be the words. These human patterns being established during the first year of life allow us to develop our ability to move from lying into standing. They develop parallel to the evolutionary movement development of the animals and start already in the womb. They also establish a base for our perceptual relationships (including body image and spatial orientation) and for our learning and communication. In this class we will explore them in their connection with dance, and their potential to clarify movement initiations, enrich the range of movement qualities, reinforce its place in space and modulate muscle tone.

Odile Seitz was born in France in 1973. She studied at Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique et de Danse in Lyon and danced in various dance companies and with many choreographers such Dominique Bagouet, Bernard Glandier, Odile Duboc or Luc Bondy in both France and Berlin. Additionally, Seitz was a co-founder of Collectif Praticable together with Alice Chauchat, Isabelle Schad and Frédéric De Carlo. Since 2011, she has been working as a practitioner and teacher of Body-Mind Centering®, dancer and choreographer, as well as a healing practitioner for Craniosacral Therapy in Berlin. <https://www.odile-seitz.de>

Colette Sadler

Modul 3,7 ECTS 3

In choreography we work with the process of understanding how to create temporal and spatial forms and holding structures for movements, actions and gestures. These forms allow us to articulate and communicate ideas, subjectivities and communal experience. I understand choreographic composition as the process of taking and making decisions. In my choreographic practice the agency surrounding these decisions is a task of shared labor between myself and the performer/s. What is included and what not in this process, shapes the meaning and specificity of both meaning and content. This workshop asks how can we understand choreographic composition from multiple perspectives employing a variety of tools. By focusing on experimental movement dramaturgies, systems and rules we will consider and practice different compositional strategies for producing the body, movement and choreography in both solo and group constellations. www.colettesadler.com

Prof. Philipp Gehmacher, Prof. Dr. Ana Vujanović

Modul 7 ECTS 2

From our, inevitably subjective, positions we will weave a web of artistic strategies which have marked the European contemporary dance and performance scenes in the last 25 years. We will share references and discuss strategies such as pedestrian body, theatricalization, non-spectacularism, movement research, conceptual dance, queering, etc. It is to unfold the artistic context in which HZT students study dance and choreography, by putting choreographic approaches in relation to one another and their own historical references, as well as to situate 'European contemporary dance' in the context of other dance scenes of today's world.

A body falling into pieces, a dance reassembling them

Tuesdays: 03. – 20.12.24 14:00 – 17:30

Wednesdays: 03. – 20.12.24 14:00 – 17:30

Thursdays: 03. – 20.12.24 14:00 – 17:30

Fridays: 03. – 20.12.24 14:00 – 17:30

Prof. Philipp Gehmacher, Sigal Zouk

Modul 3,7 ECTS 3

In this workshop we will look at the promise and the premise of being and having a body. We will look at togetherness and fragmentation, stillness and motion, space and place, posture and gesture, in time and on time, inside and outside, a body and its limbs – just some binaries waiting to be released and dismantled into the 21st century. Sigal Zouk and Philipp Gehmacher will share their physical and choreographic practice, will share their many bodies -bodies to be assembled and re-assembled, together and in parts, between physical states and the desire for (movement) language. To open up the question when and how a dance or dancing really takes place.

Sigal Zouk, dancer, performer, teacher and mediator in the field of contemporary dance. As a dancer, with Sasha Waltz, Meg Stuart and Laurent Chétouane among others. Sigal teaches at various European dance departments and institutions and collaborates with visual artists and musicians.

Writing as interactive practice – to turn and tune relations

Tuesdays: 14. – 31.01.25 14.00 – 17:30

Wednesdays: 14. – 31.01.25 14.00 – 17:30

Thursdays: 14. – 31.01.25 14.00 – 17:30

Fridays: 14. – 31.01.25 14.00 – 17:30

Lito Walkey

Modul 7 ECTS 3

In this workshop we will approach writing as an interactive practice that cultivates conditions for collaboration, translation, and proliferation. Immersing in circuits that set actions and reflections in motion, we will engage and reengage with what's always already happening - to turn and tune our relations to what we do, what we make, and how we share it. From observation to tender wish; from question to imperative; from non-verbal thought to score; from description to structural parameter (...): These movements will move through notation, voice, gesture, and space to energize the performative entanglements of collective learning.

Litó Walkey (GR/CAN) Berlin-based artist whose work operates collaboratively through writing and choreography. Her performance, publishing and teaching engage with affective circulations that energize sense (and self) drifting. She is a PhD researcher in Performance Practices at Gothenburg University and teaches internationally (HZT since 2010).

Prof. Dr. Ana Vujanovic
Modul 5 ECTS 2

In the workshop we will elaborate the relations between dance, context, and choreography. The aim is to equip students with basic theoretical knowledge and tools for thinking dance and choreography and their social-political implications, and to encourage students to reflect on their own concerns. Theoretical tools that will be offered come from feminist, queer, and black dance and performance studies, intersectional feminism, criticism of cultural appropriation, theory of labour, and phenomenology of the body. We will combine seminar, lectures, students' focused reading, and presentations.

Maria F. Scaroni Modul 2,3,4 ECTS 3

body/material invites the participants to tune into the subtle body, through landing into gravity, breath and alignment, drawn from functional anatomy elements of BMC and fascia activation. Every day the focus is brought to a system (e.g., bones, technology of breath, heart center, gravity dynamics) to allow for this to grow into explorations or dances. The class dynamic evolves from somatic tuning and awareness into a playground for a polymorphous and joyful dance experience. Often touch/hands on work is involved. The class has healing after effects, it relies on grounding to access dancing as a technology of both ecstasy and connection.

Maria F. Scaroni (IT/DE) is a dance artist, living in Berlin since 2004. She creates and interprets choreographic works rooted in improvisational practices and altered states of consciousness. Lina Gomez

Modul 8,9 ECTS 3

There is a maximum capacity for this course. Registration upon first come, first served basis.

Let's experience three weeks of being and pulsating as a group. Let's activate our center and open space to listen and feel a common rhythm. Drawing inspiration from Afro-Brazilian and Colombian dance and cultural practices, I focus on the desire for community to face the adversities of reality together. We'll immerse ourselves in the playful, awake, and collective body that characterizes these traditional dances. How can we practice coexistence through rhythm, games, and the celebration of the other? How can we be in a group without excluding individualities?

Some classes feature live music.

Lina Gómez, Colombian-born, Brazil-raised, and Berlin-based, is a choreographer, dancer, and teacher who explores the intersections between the visible and invisible, human and non-human. She speculates on group connections through diverse scenic and physical configurations. Her work challenges normative perceptions of time and opens new worlds of imagination. www.linapgomez.com

Students will also explore drag as a way to engage with and embody theory including Butler, Lacan, Sontag and Lorenz.

Queen of the Heavens and of the Earth, Empress of Despair, Architect of Your Eternal Suffering, Olympia Bukkakis is a drag queen, choreographer, moderator, and writer living and working in Berlin. She is inspired by the tensions and intersections between queer nightlife and contemporary dance.

Angela Alves

Modul 3,4,8,9

ECTS 1

There is a maximum capacity for this course. Registration upon first come, first served basis.

This workshop offers a safe space for exhausted and vulnerable dancers' bodies and looks at dance through the lens of invisible disability. Our starting point is the nervous system. We practice methods of rest that soothe, rewire and strengthen our nervous systems to create a neurological habitat in which we feel safe enough to let go of stress.

Each day begins with a rest practice informed by the principles of Yin Yoga followed by a short neuroplasticity exercise. After recognizing the obstacles that have been put up between our bodies and rest, the second part of the day is about using disco dance and the neuroplasticity technique "Embodiment of Passion" to access all the pleasure that lives in our bodies.

Joséphine Evrard

Modul 3,4,8,9

ECTS 1

There is a maximum capacity for this course. Registration upon first come, first served basis.

Joséphine Evrard invites you to take time to get in touch with yourself, to take care of a place to re-source from. She will facilitate a process of accessing and inhabiting an inner space, share listening presence practices, whilst integrating full presence meditation and Fascia touch (hands on) from the Danis Bois Method. Weaving between experiencing and sharing these practices together, participants will explore how to nurture a quality of presence to oneself, to the other, to the space. How it can be effortless, how presence can become a place to rest.

Joséphine Evrard is a choreographer and performing artist, based in Berlin since 1997. Integrating both artistic and therapeutical practices, she is interested in how presence arises, manifests, transforms, dissolves, and what traces presence leaves in an inner and outer space, and how both are in constant resonance.

Myriam Lucas Modul 2,3,4 ECTS 2

Sessions (jams, open floors, labs) are a format of coming together that derives from the Urban freestyle dance community. Sessions exist in many different forms and depend mainly on the community they are serving. You go to these session spaces to share, to learn, to play, to perform, to be busy with yourselves while in the company of others (Parallel Play), to chat about things going on in the community (micro or macro), and to have a consistent group of people who can share in the practice of witnessing. In “The Session Space” we will engage with the methods and practices of Urban dance training sessions. We will explore ways Urban freestyle dancers train, perform and communicate and, in the process, practice how to be busy with ourselves while being witnessed and, more importantly, while witnessing others. We are going to use House and Hip-Hop movement foundation to work towards creating a collective movement vocabulary (our own movement style) over the three-week period. There will be ALOT of dancing to music. Let’s play!

Myriam Lucas is a dancer, teaching artist and choreographer from San Diego, California. She began her dancing as a freestyle Hip-Hop dancer and has since moved into other Urban dance forms and various contemporary movement techniques. In 2010 she completed a 3- year Teacher Training with Eveoke Dance Theater. Since completing her training, she has taught classes, workshops, intensives ranging from elementary to collegiate students and beginning to professional dancers. In 2018 she completed her BA in Dance, Context and Choreography at HTZ Berlin. Since graduating, she has focused her research on Urban Session spaces. She aspires to document and spread knowledge about the inner workings of Urban dance methodologies in artistic and practical ways. Currently, she is based in Berlin.

Karol Tyminski

Modul 8,9 ECTS 3

There is a maximum capacity for this course. Registration upon first come, first served basis.

What is (the) matter is a workshop based on the artistic practice of Karol Tyminski which investigates the act of integrating the human body into an agglomerate of things as the means of redefining one's relation towards the so-called inanimate. Students will become familiar with the notion of cross-matter eroticism (coined by Tyminski) which recognizes structural, chemical or even evolutionary interrelations of matter as a potential sexual act. This, used as the means of hacking the human understanding of sexuality, becomes the basis for sensitizing ourselves towards all surrounding, in opposition to norms dictated by a consumerist agenda. The workshop consists of practical and theoretical parts.

Karol Tyminski - Polish Berlin-based choreographer, educated at DAS Choreography and PARTS. His work, presented worldwide, questions forms of being in the world, as a form of philosophy in practice. Brutalist Choreography or cross-matter eroticism are at the core of his practice - he passes on in academia in Singapore, Reykjavik, Salzburg and Berlin.

Modul 8,9 ECTS 3

There is a maximum capacity for this course. Registration upon first come, first served basis.

This is a 3-week workshop steeped in composition. We will practice how to compose, how to practice, and how to translate our thinking while working the material be it movement research, text, sculptural forms or other. We will consider composition as a constant attention toward the status of things by roughly sketching ideas, giving away our ideas, stealing someone else`s and returning without the dilemma of authorship as an isolating identity structure. This workshop will focus on how we translate our politics and center our ways of working to support the poetics of making work rather than minimizing the ungovernable potentiality.

Jen Rosenblit makes performances based in Berlin after many years in New York City, surrounding architectures, bodies, text, and ideas concerned with problems that arise inside of agendas for togetherness. Isabelle Schad

Modul 2,3,4 ECTS 2

The dynamic, circular flow of aikido is a continual opportunity for practitioners to find themselves at the centre of the movement. In aikido body, spirit and soul become one indivisible entity. The notion of zen, approaches the self as a place of consciousness, inner peace and kindness; it is about overcoming duality and the separations between body and mind, reason and emotion, attacking and defending, self and other in order to get to a space of awareness, attention, inner clarity and presence.

From the core principles such as weight shift, pushing and pulling we will find our ways into the dynamic flow of Aikido, including how to hold and move with a wooden sword or knife - and of course how to move with the partner.

Dancer and choreographer Isabelle Schad focuses on the body and its materiality, processuality and knowability, as well as the relationship between the unity of body–mind–soul, choreography and (re)presentation, and the issues of community-building and political engagement. In 2010 she co-founded the Tanzhalle Wiesenburg, a place for artistic research, creation and interdisciplinary collaboration in Berlin Wedding. Her works have been performed at international festivals, including ImPuls Tanz Wien, Tanz im August (Berlin), Montpellier Danse, International Arts Festival (Beijing) or the Venice Biennale in 2016 as well as in museums and visual art contexts. This workshop is mandatory for all students registered for MAP 8.

We will focus on crafting bodies-in-motion and then present them to each other. We will try to be discerning with what we consider our physical body and the many (imaginary, existential, fantastic, political...) bodies that travel through us. Crafting will mean to differentiate between what a body, physicality and movement is to each of us, to then see how they interact (intra-act) in everybody's solo work as diverse bodies in space.

The workshop includes daily physical group practice, individual research and practice, composition and continuous presentation to each other. Continuous participation, individual research and presentation of physical studies are expected to fulfil the criteria of assessment.

Together we'll move between different modes of conversation, journeying and companionship to think in relationship to our own experiences of time, energy and attention, asking questions such as 'what does walking* mean for me?'

*We recognise & challenge the assumed bipedalism of the term walking. These sessions welcome people who have diverse physicalities, sensory modalities, use mobility tech and/or are neurodivergent.

Everyone is encouraged to engage as they need, in relationship to their levels of energy, pace and scale when moving, reading, speaking, etc. Everyone is free to rest as required; to come and go as they need and to choose the distances they travel. Roni Katz

Modul 2,3,4 1 ECTS per 10 sessions

The word Vinyasa is derived from the Sanskrit term nyasa, which means “to place” and the prefix vi, “in a special way”. Here in the west, Vinyasa means flow, moving mindfully. Through physical and mental rigor and concentration this morning class brings together breath, asana (poses), and core work into a precise and persistent flow sequence. Taking into consideration a long day ahead of dancing, thinking, and socializing, this class facilitates warm-up and centering for the multilayered body, mind, heart and soul. The 90 minutes class includes meditation, deep physical practice, and space for rest and integration which will set us into a spacious and awake state of agility and calmness. Through paying full attention to how we work our muscles and joints we cultivate a non-judgmental yet critical way of being present while moving through the world.

Roni Katz is a choreographer and dancer, and an eternal yoga practitioner. In 2014 She completed her teacher training at the Lotus Seed Community Center in Portland Oregon, and has been teaching regular classes and retreats at Yellow Yoga Berlin from 2014 to 2021. Roni’s choreographic work engages with the erotic, questions power, and moves through ecological forms. While consistently embodying personal-political matters, these elements shapeshift between formats of cabaret, film, performance, conversation and participation. Both collectively and solo, the work is driven by the necessity and desire to be in community, with and in relation to other human and other-than-human collaborators. The practice, slow and steady, brings into play exposure, subjectivities, sensuality, intimacy and pleasure. Since graduating from the BA program at HZT Berlin in 2014 Roni presented work at different venues in Europe and Israel/Palestine.

Modul 7 ECTS 3

Stolen from one of Ariel's songs in "The Little Mermaid", written by lyricist Howard Ashman, this course focuses on The Collection as a container to approach the vastness of auto-fiction and the written form. We will begin from where we are and what we know to lean into a genre that blends fiction and what may appear to be fact into an unstable compound. We will read together a small selection of writers such as Zadie Smith, Gertrude Stein, Adam Phillips and Cathy Acker among others. Each week will be a new writing assignment which at the end of our term stacks together as a vignette, a list or vertical chain regardless of sense-making or apparent belonging to another. Focus will be placed on the labor of editing. We might have to let go, misunderstand, and be misunderstood along the way toward articulation.

Seeing Work and talking about it

Eva-Maria Hoerster
MOD 7,11 ECTS 2

The proposal for this seminar is very simple: we will attend performances of dance pieces together and talk about them afterwards. In some cases, discussions with artists will also be possible.

The seminar involves questions such as: How do I actually watch pieces? How do we talk about them? How can we discuss them? We will try out different ways of watching and speaking, reflecting and criticising. We will also look at production conditions and the contexts in which the work takes place. Some preparatory tasks will be assigned.

Eight performances will be visited. A list of performances and dates will be announced at the beginning of the semester. The discussion will then take place the following day at 13:00 as a lunch conversation. Attending at least 4 performances incl. discussion is 1 ECTS, attending 8 performances incl. discussion 2 ECTS.

SODA Lecture Series: Body Concepts

Thursdays: 24.10.2024 – 12.12.2025 18:00 – 20:00

Prof. Dr. Sandra North, Lucia Ruprecht (FU Berlin)

Modul 6, 11 ECTS 1

How to think (with) bodies? How to grasp the embodied knowledge that informs and at the same time undermines and disrupts our theorising? How to conceptualise bodies from the perspective of different disciplines? In eight encounters between thinkers and artists, the international lecture series Body Concepts asks which bodies—and which realities of life, which experiences—we pay attention to in our thinking, and which are confronted with systemic exclusions or framings.

The lecture series responds to the increasing trans-disciplinarity that characterises contemporary dance and performance creation and thinking. Concurrently, it addresses significant developments that demonstrate the potential for integrating body-based, practical and theoretical knowledge generated in the arts with other fields and disciplines. Body concepts are of great significance in this context. They facilitate an urgent discourse and dialogue between thinkers and artists, enabling us to identify and define the role and agency of bodies in the socio-political and ethical sphere of communal and individual life. Each session is based on a key word that provides a starting point for discussion, combining political, environmental, psychoanalytic and future perspectives on the body with contributions from disability studies, black studies, migration studies and queer studies.

Detailed and complete information on the invited guests and their contributions will be available at www.hzt-berlin.de from the beginning of September 2024

Body Concepts is a cooperation between HZT Berlin/MA SODA and FU Berlin/MA Critical Dance Studies and is curated by Sandra Noeth and Lucia Ruprecht. All lectures will be held in English. They are open to the public and free of charge. The project is funded by KKWV – Commission for Artistic and Scientific Projects at the UdK Berlin.

3.1. Kontinuierliche Veranstaltungen maC2

Morgenpraxis: Instant Composition

Mo, Fr (ab 21.10.2024) 9 – 10:30 Uhr
Sprache: Deutsch
Teilnehmer*innenzahl: max. 20

Dozent: Ingo Reulecke

Modul: verpflichtend für maC1, offen für alle (CH4)

In dieser 90-minütigen Praxis werden wir uns primär für die Wachheit und Klarheit, aus dem Augenblick heraus zu agieren, sensibilisieren. Hierzu sollen Improvisationsscores dienen, die die Partizipierenden einerseits für sich bewältigen, andererseits aber auch in Kontakt und Austausch mit einer*m Partner*in oder der Gruppe stehen können. Themen werden sein: Tuning, Anfang und Ende, Inhibition, Pause, Phrasierung, Antizipation, usw.

Morgenpraxis: Vinyasa Yoga

Di, Do (ab 21.10.2024) 9:00 – 10:30 Uhr
Sprache: Deutsch

Dozent: Ingo Reulecke

Modul: offen für alle aus Channel4

Die Vinyasa Yoga-Klasse versucht, einen Fluss im organischen Ablauf der Asanas (Körperhaltungen) unter starker Einbeziehung der Pranayama Praxis (Atemschulung) zu berücksichtigen. Dabei werden verschiedene Surya Namaskar (Sonnengruß) - Abolgen erlernt und variiert, die dann spielerisch zu schwierigen Asanas weiterleiten.

Un/Doing Choreography

Di, 19.11.2024 + Do, 21.11.2024, 11 – 13 + 14 – 17 Uhr
Do, 13.02.2024 11 – 13 + 14 – 17 Uhr

Dozent:in: HZT Team

Modul: maC2, offen für CH4

Das Format Un/Doing Choreography eröffnet die Möglichkeit, Akteur*innen aus dem Feld der Choreographie mit ihren jeweils eigenen Arbeitsansätzen kennenzulernen. Dabei können aktuelle Produktionen oder Recherchen unserer Gäst*innen diskutiert oder die jeweilige Praxis gemeinsam erkundet werden. Wie gehen gesellschaftliche und politische Fragen in Probenprozesse ein? Welche dramaturgischen Überlegungen sind relevant? Un/Doing Choreography ist eine offenes Austauschformat, in dem es um das kritische Potenzial choreographischer Praxis geht.

Das Labor widmet sich die Untersuchung von Riten, Routine, Zeremonie und deren Wirkungen für die choreographischen Arbeiten. Und die Riten sind in der Zeit was das Heim im Raum ist. Denn es ist gut, wenn uns die verrinnende Zeit nicht als etwas erscheint, das uns verbraucht und zerstört, sondern als etwas, das uns vollendet. „Citadelle, Antoine de Saint- Exupéry“ Die intensive symbolische Wahrnehmung verschwindet immer mehr zugunsten extensiver serieller Wahrnehmung, die nicht zur Erfahrung der Dauer fähig ist und Aufmerksamkeitsdefizite produziert.

Die Wiederholung ist der Wesenszug der Rituale. Vergangenheit und Zukunft werden zusammengeschlossen zu einer lebendigen Gegenwart. Die Wiederholung als Schlussform stiftet Dauer und Intensität. „Vom Verschwinden der Rituale, Byung-Chul Han“.

Dozentinnen: Wanda Golonka, Isabel Robson

Modul M3 und M2: maC2

1. Raum

Wir gehen der Frage nach Perspektivwechsel im Bühnenraum nach:
Welche räumlichen Dispositive erzeugen Nähe und Distanz? Wie kann der Raum das Bewusstsein fokussieren oder verändern? Ausgehend von eigenem Material erforschen die Studierenden Perspektivwechsel im Raum.

31.10 & 1.11. 2024

10 – 17 Uhr

Dozent:innen: Wanda Golonka, Andreas Harder

Die mitgebrachte Skizze wird unterschiedlich beleuchtet. Welches Licht braucht der Tanz? Wir beobachten, wie Licht den Inhalt verändert. Welche Entscheidung treffen können wir treffen, um Doppelungen (Bewegung, Raum, Licht, Sound) zu vermeiden?

Andreas Harder ist Lichtdesigner und Bühnenbildner, Beleuchtungs- und Theaterbühnenmeister. Er studierte Bildende Kunst an der Hochschule der Künste Berlin, ist Dozent für angehende Requisiteure und Theatermeister und leitet technische Einrichtungen von Theater- und Medienfestivals sowie internationalen Tourproduktionen. Als Lichtdesigner arbeitete er in den Bereichen Tanz/Choreographie, Theater und Konzert.

Susan Leigh Foster analysiert in ihrem Buch ‚Reading Dancing‘ vier prägende Choreograph*innen des 20. Jahrhunderts: Deborah Hay, George Balanchine, Martha Graham und Merce Cunningham. Ausgehend von dieser Lektüre erarbeiten wir uns unterschiedliche Körperkonzepte und Kompositionsprinzipien, denen wir uns anschließend in diversen Versuchsanordnungen praktisch annähern. In einem zweiten Schritt werden die Studierenden dann ihr eigenes Körperverständnis und ihre Kompositionsprinzipien entwickeln. In der folgenden Selbststudiumswoche werden die Studierenden dann ausgehend von einer/einem ausgewählten Choreograph*in eine eigene Umsetzung der Konzepte und Prinzipien erarbeiten.

Die Studierenden präsentieren ihre Ideen für die M7 Projekte. Wir setzen die Erfahrung mit der künstlerischen Biografie fort und legen den Fokus auf das Master-Projekt. Die Ikonografie überprüft das M7-Konzept und dient als Selbst-Feedback. Mit der Methode der choreographischen Ikonografie erfahren die Studierenden, wie sie speziell zu einer Fragestellung choreographisch denken, analysieren, Entscheidungen treffen und komponieren.

11-13 + 14-17 Uhr, bat Studiotheater

Dozentinnen: Wanda Golonka, Isabel Robson

Modul M1/M3: maC2

Selbststudium: Bühnenmodell

Anknüpfend an unser Bühnenlabor im Oktober werden wir uns mit den Möglichkeiten der Bühnen auseinandersetzen, die für die M7 Projekte zur Verfügung stehen: die HfS Bühne Unten, das bat Studiotheater und die Uferstudios US 14 und US1.

Welche räumlichen Konfigurationen und technische Realisationen sind möglich?

Welche Materialien stehen im Zusammenhang mit den Themen eurer Vorhaben?

Wie können wir szenografische Ideen einfach im Studio erforschen und kommunizieren, auf Papier, als physisches Skizzenmodell oder sogar digital als 3D-Modell?

How to manipulate: EINFÜHRUNG IN BILDBEARBEITUNG

Mi, 15.01.2025

10-14 Uhr

Dozentin: Franziska BauerModul: maC2

Eine knackige Einführung in die Möglichkeiten von Photoshop. Beziehungsweise von GIMP. Dies ist, wie SCRIBUS, eine Open Source Alternative zu Photoshop, aber vom Prinzip und Interface sehr ähnlich. Fokussieren werden wir uns auf das Manipulieren von Bildern: Einfärben, Verzerren, Montieren, Freistellen. Diese Einführung soll euch auf die Gestaltung von Abendzetteln und eurem Portraitheft vorbereiten und ist sowohl für pure Anfänger*innen sowie schon etwas Fortgeschrittenere gedacht. Wir werden uns eher auf das Technische konzentrieren und ganz von vorne anfangen.

[Falls ihr schonmal mit vergleichbaren Programmen (Adobe Photoshop, Affinity Designer) gearbeitet habt, könnt ihr sehr gerne auch mit diesen arbeiten und ich passe die Einführung auf euch an; hier bitte vorher Bescheid geben].

+ Selbststudium Mo, Do, Fr: 27.01.-31.01.2025

15 – 17 Uhr

Dozentin: Christiane BergerModul: M7, maC2

Wie wird aus einer Idee ein Projekt? Was braucht es, damit diese Idee zum choreographischen Projekt werden kann? In welchem Verhältnis stehen Idee und Konzept?

Wie kann das Konzept eine künstlerische Arbeit unterstützen, und wie kann ich dieses Konzept in einer Projektbeschreibung formulieren? Wir nehmen die Projekte für das kommende Sommersemester in den Blick, die wir konzipierend vorbereiten.

Portraithefte

Mi, 29.01.2025

15 – 17 Uhr

Dozentin: Wanda Golonka

Modul: maC2

Die Studierenden gestalten zu ihrem Masterprojekt ein Portraitheft, in dem sie ihre künstlerische Arbeit in den Studienjahren darstellen. Wie kann ein Portraitheft die eigene Handschrift und den Studiumsprozess widerspiegeln?

Wir setzen uns intensiv mit Formen und Inhalt auseinander, um zu unterschiedlichen Ergebnissen zu kommen. Der Austausch konzentriert sich auch auf die Produktionsbedingungen des Entwurfs: Vorgabe und kreative Freiheit.

Visualisierung der choreographischen Praxis

Di, 28.01.2025

10 – 14 Uhr

Verantwortlich: Ana Lessing

Modul: maC2

In diesem Seminar beschäftigen wir uns mit der Übertragung der choreographischen Praxis in andere Medien. Insbesondere konzentrieren wir uns auf das Entwickeln von Gestaltungskonzepten in Hinblick auf die Umsetzung einer eigenen Publikation. Wie können Inhalte unserer künstlerischen choreographischen Praxis durch Design vermittelt werden? Das Zusammenspiel von Inhalt und Form, Text und Bild, die Mittel der Gestaltung, werden uns dafür als künstlerisches Sprachrohr dienen.

For: SODA 2, 401

Part of the final projects of the MA SODA students is the reflection of their body-based artistic research projects in the form of individual research essays. These texts will be published online in parallel with the public presentations of the graduation works in November and December 2024. To support and accompany this process that is largely self-organized by the students, the cultural journalist and author Falk Schreiber offers a writing and editing lab, in which the texts are analysed, discussed and finalized for publication in individual and group constellations.

Falk Schreiber is editor for „tanz - Zeitschrift für Ballett, tanz und Performance“ (magazine for ballet, dance and performance) and freelancing journalist for publications like Theater heute, Nachtkritik and Hamburger Abendblatt. His main interests are performing and visual arts, queer culture, music. He lives in Hamburg and Berlin.

The format is a practice-based reflection on art-making and its relationship to a context. How can art be placed in a context that is not defined by a cultural bubble? How do we relate to the context in which HZT is situated in? How can we make a context work for an artistic statement?

1. context: Neighbourhood

The students will find a neighbour (not a professional in the field of art) to whom they will show and explain premisses of their work. They will ask them later to narrate, explain, perform, re-enact what a student is involved with, in a format that can be presented to their peers. Students will use different methodological approaches: interviews, documentation (audio, video, photos, objects...), presentation or performance.

Text How to think (with) bodies? How to grasp the embodied knowledge that informs and at the same time undermines and disrupts our theorising? How are bodies conceptualised from the perspective of different disciplines? In eight encounters between thinkers and artists, the international series Body Concepts asks which bodies and which realities of life, which experiences we pay attention to in our thinking, and which are confronted with systemic exclusions or framings.

The lecture series responds to the increasing inter- and trans-disciplinarity that characterises contemporary dance and performance creation and thinking. Concurrently, it addresses significant developments that demonstrate the potential for integrating body-based, practical and theoretical knowledge generated in the arts with other fields and disciplines. Body concepts are of great significance in this context. They facilitate an urgent discourse and dialogue between thinkers and artists, enabling us to identify and define the role and agency of bodies in the socio-political and ethical sphere of communal and individual life.

Each session is based on a key word that provides a starting point for discussion, combining political, environmental, psychoanalytic and future perspectives on the body with contributions from disability studies, black studies, migration studies and queer studies.

Detailed and complete information on the invited guests and their contributions will be available at www.hzt-berlin.de from the beginning of September 2024.

Body Concepts is a cooperation between HZT Berlin/MA SODA and FU Berlin/MA Critical Dance Studies and is curated by Sandra Noeth and Lucia Ruprecht.

All lectures will be held in English. They are open to the public and free of charge.

The project is funded by KKWV – Commission for Artistic and Scientific Projects at the UdK Berlin.

Exposure to different strategies and concepts of body-based research is fundamental to the MA SODA program. Based on examples and case studies, the two sessions will focus on knowledge cultures from non-European contexts: practices of collective learning, approaches from oral culture, formats at the intersections of art, activism and socio-political education.

Nadja Dias with Luke Pell

For: Channel 4, BA 1, BA 2, BA 3, MA SODA, maC

Evening performances, talks & conversation formats

Within the frame of the No Limits Festival, Claire Cunningham's Dramaturge Luke Pell and Executive Producer Nadja Dias invite students to attend 3 performances and group talks. Via a series of performance visits and conversation formats we will create space to engage, exchange and reflect upon the artistic works we experience with one another.

We will attend Claire's new solo Songs of the Wayfarer (WT) alongside two - three further productions and invite makers and creative collaborators to join our conversation sessions.

As a group we will enter into a compassionately critical questioning of artistic practices and access considerations in response to the various performances. In particular, we will consider the ways in which differing lived experiences, artistic perspectives and practical access considerations can shape and inform an aesthetics of access in productions and in one's practice more broadly. Together we will go on to discuss other pertinent questions arising and how we might approach the practical implementation of access in our own work. Our exchange sessions and performance visits are planned taking into account principles of crip time and refer to our questions on what is a choreography of care.

PODCAST SERIES: Crip | Choreo | Care

Online

Dates/times: tbc

Guest Artists with Claire Cunningham, Nadja Dias, Angela Alves or Luke Pell
For: Channel 4

As part of Claire Cunningham's artistic research as Einstein Profil Professor of Dance, Choreography and Disability Arts at HZT 2023-2028, Claire and team are developing a new series of podcasts entitled Crip | Choreo | Care. Across the series Claire and associates - Nadja Dias, Angela Alves and Luke Pell - will be in conversation with a range of guest artists and allies about their research and practice.

Together they will explore topics that include: anti-ableist approaches in the arts; crip technique; the aesthetics of access; what it is to lead through practice – disrupting normative models of leadership; spoony spaces that actively encourage practices of rest and stop in relationship to disability justice; what it is to cultivate crip/ped conditions in dance production and dramaturgy, as well as considering our ethical and social responsibilities to audiences. They will also be introducing their forthcoming symposia Bodies of Knowledge: Choreographies of Care which takes place during the professorship along with the artists, thinkers and practitioners contributing.

This podcast series recognises the importance of alternative formats for learning, particularly for disabled and neurodivergent learners and those living with long-term illness and chronic-health conditions. The team are committed to offering a range of digital and in presence formats throughout the professorship that allow people to engage with this project and their teaching both in person and remotely, in relationship to their access needs and as they may need.

The first podcast will be launched in December 2024, along with a schedule for subsequent episodes.

Angela Alves

For: BA 2, 3, 3+

This workshop offers a safe space for exhausted and vulnerable dancers' bodies and looks at dance through the lens of invisible disability. Our starting point is the nervous system. We practice methods of rest that sooth, rewire and strengthen our nervous systems to create a neurological habitat in which we feel safe enough to let go of stress.

Each day begins with a rest practice informed by the principles of Yin Yoga followed by a short neuroplasticity exercise. After recognizing the obstacles that have been put up between our bodies and rest, the second part of the day is about using disco dance and the neuroplasticity technique "Embodiment of Passion" to access all the pleasure that lives in our bodies.

Angela Alves' artistic practice is informed by the nature of her life as a sick woman. Based on her interest in the neurobiological body in its biotope, she develops artworks that question society's perception of "healthy" and "sick" and attempt to redefine the concept of the norm by promoting perspectives that arise from the disability experience.

Wayfarers

Uferstudios, Studio tbc
14.01.25 – 17.01.25,

14:00-17:30

Prof. Claire Cunningham

For: BA 3/3+

Drawing on research into wayfaring and journeying, these days will look at the acts of stravaiging (a Scots word meaning to stroll or wander), walking* and navigating. Prof. Claire Cunningham will share material and movement scores from her recent performance work, bringing influences and philosophies from Crip and disabled lived experience and invite students to share and consider their own ways of moving through the world. Together we'll move between different modes of conversation, journeying and companionship to think in relationship to our own experiences of time, energy and attention, asking questions such as 'what does walking* mean for me?'

* We recognise & challenge the assumed bipedalism of the term walking. These sessions welcome people who have diverse physicalities, sensory modalities, use mobility tech and/or are neurodivergent.

Everyone is encouraged to engage as they need, in relationship to their levels of energy, pace and scale when moving, reading, speaking, etc. Everyone is free to rest as required; to come and go as they need and to choose the distances they travel. This session will be led in English (and Scottish) but participants may engage in the tasks in the language they feel most comfortable using.

Outside activity proposals will be weather dependent.

Looking at production examples students will be introduced to planning tools and concepts to support project planning, financing and feasibility. A specific focus will be placed on access and inclusive working methods with students being encouraged to develop projects that consider aesthetics of access, access for audiences and accessible working methods.

Are you wondering

... how you, as a neurodivergent person, can navigate the academic universe of an art school?

... how you might deal with neurotypical ideas of a "good student", e.g. in terms of time management, work flow, deadlines and schedules?

... or how you can free yourself from internalised neurotypical narratives that prevent you from taking your own artistic space?

Let's come together and find out how we can support each other!

This seminar provides a safer space for neurodivergent students and staff to socialise, read and share life realities. We want to meet to talk and be silent with each other, share some simple somatic practice to release stress, and learn about neurodivergent life, artists and theories.

Inspired, in part, by Gustav Mahler's "Lieder eines fahrenden Gesellen" led by her lived-experience as a disabled person, her memory of training as a classical singer and knowledge drawn from mountaineers and disabled peers, Claire Cunningham sets out to make a show where she traverses known and unfamiliar landscapes.

In this new solo Cunningham asks what it is to wander? To seek to scale great heights? What can be learned from those of us who reach for the ground through crutches as 4-legged creatures, the choreography of crip* navigation and the maps we would re-draw? Of scale and time and energy? What it means to keep going and, importantly, the wisdom to know when to turn back.

Join this internationally renowned disabled leader and choreographer for an evening-length work, where she comes to understand her own journeying as a love song - to the ground, to her disabled peers and the innate wisdom of crip* expertise and joy.
